Dear Mr. Mantel:

Pursuant to your February 15, 2012 notification, the following fuel additive has been registered per 40 CFR 79.23 (our internal identification number precedes the name):

REDACTED

Liquid Horsepower (LHP)

Note that per 40 CFR 79.21(f) you would be required to notify us in writing if certain information in your notification were to change. In addition, note, that with your notification, you have provided assurances that you will not represent, directly or indirectly, in any notice, circular, letter, or other written communication, or any written, oral or pictorial notice or other announcement in any publication or by radio or television, that registration constitutes endorsement, certification, or approval by any agency of the United States.

Please call (202) 343-9754 if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

A manufacturer of a baseline or non baseline additive whose average of the previous three years annual sales revenue is less than $50 million is exempt from the Tier 1 and Tier 2 health-effects testing requirements. A manufacturer of an atypical additive whose average of the previous three years annual sales revenue is less than $10 million is exempt from the Tier 2 requirements. If you believe that you qualify for an exemption, enter below your sales revenue for each of the previous three years and the average.

(Note: In cases where subsidiary, divisional, or other complex business arrangements exist, the business entity to which this sales level pertains is the parent company with ultimate ownership. The "ultimate" parent is defined as the uppermost headquarters or topmost company encompassing all related parents, subsidiaries, divisions, branches, or other operating units. This definition follows that used by the Small Business Administration. It also helps to ensure that a company will not subdivide merely to become eligible for an exemption.)

Annual sales revenue 3 years ago:	$
Annual sales revenue 2 years ago:	$
Annual sales revenue 1 year ago:	$
Average of above:	$

Is the above average for the company named in Item 2?
